MR BLAINE EXPECTED TO-DAY

PREPARATIONS FOR HIS RECEPTION. YEARS THAT THE POG MAY DELAY THE STEAMER CLUBS FROM MANY CITIES AND TOWNS

GATHERING TO HONOR THE DIS-TINGUISHED LEADER. A feeling of uncertainty exists in regard to Mr. Blaine's arrival here to-day. It is due to two causes. First, the fact that this being really the trial trip of the City of New-York, it is not at all unlikely that she may not be able to make the ecived yesterday from incoming vessels indicate been exceptionally fortunate, valuable time has been lost in consequence of these mists. The agents of the Inman Line still hope that the vesabout it last night.

PEOPLE WHO WILL MEET MR. BLAINE.

The Reception Committee of the Republican Club, however, or most of the members at least, believe that Mr. Blaine will get here to-day. The steamer Sam Slcan will be ready at Pier 18, North River, early this morning for the members of the club, the National Republican Committee, the State and County Committees and the prominent party leaders, who have been invited by the club to go down the Bay.. Among these will be William Walter Phelps, Charles Emory Smith, Senator Quay, General J. W. Husted, Joseph H. Manley, Ellis H. Roberts, ex-Senator Warner Miller, ex-Senator T. C. Platt, General Harrison's law partner, Mr. Miller. James D. Brady, of Virginia, General New, and General Knapp.

Mr. Morton sent word yesterday that he would not be able to go down the Bay, but would join in welcoming Mr. Blaine at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. Congressman Reed was unable to go on To Arthur B. Graves, Vice-President Phenix Insurance account of a mass-meeting in Maine, where he is to speak. It was the intention of the committee that the Sionn would start from her pier at 11 o'clock, but owing to the probable delay of the City of New-York it is not likely that the steamboat will start for two or three hours later.

There has been a good deal of criticism lavished upon the Reception Committee in certain quarters because Chairman Poel declined to take every one on board that wanted to go down the bay. The Sloan only carries about 1,500 people, but several intended to be an entirely informal affair. This for that service. About 500 special delivery was Mr. Blaine's specific request. In view of this the club simply invited the representatives of the Republican party. It did not feel justified in It is not true, as has been charged. doing more. that Charles Emory Smith and Senator Quay have been denied tickets. Mr. Smith said last night | fill up the list of letter-carriers from which appoint that he received an invitation a week ago. So did Mr. Quay. Mr. Pool declares, furthermore, that an invitation has been sent to every newspaper in the city and to the correspondents of the leading journals of the country.

Pulver has been hired by the Chicago Blaine Club. Last evening several of the local organizations were trying to hire bonts, and it was reported that most of them had been successful.

The ranks of the out-of-town division of the parade were further swelled yesterday by the arrival of the Kansas City Blaine Club and the Young Men's Republican Club of Baltimore. The Kansas City men came by the Eric Read on the first solid train that ever made the trip from Kansas City here. Speeches were mada by President Bartlett, of the New-York Pepublican club. Colonel Scott, Colonel Jones. Mr. Wood, of Chicago, Oliver Summer Teals, and other prominent members of the clubs. It was a highly successful meeting.

ARRIVAL OF THE BALTIMORE CLUB. About 250 members of the Young Men's Club of Baltimore arrived shortly before midnight by the Pennsylvania Roilroad. They also came by a special train which was handsomely decorated in the most patriotic style. This club will stay at the Sturtevant House. President Johnson, of the Maryland State Republican Lengue, came early in the afternoon. He will go down the bay to meet Mr. Blaine. The Young Men's Club will probably go on the Pulver with the Chicago club. The Kansas men expect to get a boat for themselves. The Ohio contingent headed by Judge John A. The order, however, will probably be as follows: Platoon of police, Cappa's Band, Ninth Ward Pioneer Corps, Grand Marshal and staff, Republican Club, Pennsylvania division, New-Jersey division, the National Ecpublican League, the Dry Goods men, over 800 strong; Brocklyn's big contingent, the New-York grand divisions, and the other divisions that have not yet officially reported. The big fourteen-foot Harrison and Morton ball will be a feature of the procession. Colonel Clark, of the IXth Assembly District, will have special charge of it. THE PHENIX COMPANY ALL RIGHT.

DENIAL OF A REPORTED DEFALCATION OF HALF A MILLION.

Considerable uncasiness was caused among persons voyage within the time expected, six days, even interested in the Phenix Insurance Company by a report the most favorable weather. Reports rebad condition. The news was said to come from Chithat she has not been favored with this important cago, where, it was stated, the company had suffered condition. Heavy fogs have hung over the Banks a loss of $500,000 through its State agent. People at for several days, and unless the new steamer has all familiar with the affairs of the company were not inclined to put much faith in the report, for the article abounded in the most patent inaccuracies. Nevertheless those of the directors of the company who were in reach hurried to the New-York office, which sel will arrive on time, but they felt grave doubts is in the Western Union Building, to inquire into the matter, and when the young assistant secretary reached the office he was startled to find two directors who were equally anxious to learn about the report, and also why he did not get to work earlier. Vice-President Graves came in later in the day, and denounced the reported state of affairs as both false All the preparations for receiving him have been and impossible. In the absence of further particulars none of the officers cared to talk much, but they said the report was either the work of some business rival. or else a grossly distorted rehash of matters that are now ancient history. Almost a year ago an assess ment of 44 per cent, or $440,000, was made on the stockholders, to make good losses in the marine de partment of the company's business. The marine business has now been given up entirely, and the com pany is declared to be in thoroughly good condition.

It was further stated that the general Western agent, whose office is at Chicago, seldom has more than a few thousand dollars of the company's money in his possession, and the idea that he could, by any ssibility, have a shortage of $500,000 was simply an absurdity. The following dispatch from two of the Chloago directors of the company was received in the Thomas Cleary, age fifty-eight, quarreiled wi son John, a young man of twenty-five, at their home, No. 1.971 Third-eve., on Monday night. For a while they engaged in a fight, when the old man drew a broadside. The young man ran screaming to the atreet, and in a few moments Detactive Dugan, of the Twenty-seventh Precinct, came up, learned the state of the case, and entering the house arrested the father, who was identified as his assailant by the son, who was apparently breathing his lost. The wounded man was taken to the Harlem Hospital, where he will probably die. At the Twenty-seventh Precinct station house the bloody knife was found upon the person of the accused man, who said his son was a desperate man, and that he used the kuife fearing for his own life. Justice Welde, in the Harlem Police Court, committed the prisoner to await the tesuit of the injuries he inflicted.

TWO WRANGLERS SCARED OUT OF COURT. John W. Nolan, janitor of Pythagoras Hall, had a new quamens issued yesterday for William H. McNair, a member of District Assembly No. 49, Knights of Labor, and a "Quinatter." Last weak McNair was warned by the Judge not to molest Nolan. A second time the two faced Justice Duffy in the Essex Market Police Court.

"What is the trouble new?" asked the little judge.
"Monday afternoon," said Noian, "I detected McNair in the act of picking the lock of Treasurer Brestin's room on the second floor of Pythagoras Hall." He then explained that the trouble grose from the fact that there wers "Quinnites" and anti-"Quinnites" in the district that he belonged to the latter faction and that McNair "had no business" in the room referred to. Whereupon the defendaut retorted, and mutual recriminations followed.

"Stop," called out Justice Duffy. "Do you think I have nothing else to do but to listen to your petty quar-

NO MORE PRISONERS MUST GET AWAY. The forgeries that have caused a leak from Blackwell's Island have caused the Commissioners of Charlities and Correction to issue instructions to all the keepers of prisons in this city and also to the keep er of the workhouse. The woman hurried to the Fifth Street Station house and Roundsman Arfken and Policeman Fraser hurried to the house. They found the husband in bed and in his hand was the loaded revolver. He was arrested and locked up at the station house. He was arraigned before Justice Duffy at the Essex Market Police Court yearerday and committed to be examined as to his Court yesterday and committed to be examined as to his mental condition.

WHERE WILL THE NEW-YORK YACHT CLUB FLEET GO AFTER LEAVING NEWPORT! Nothing definite has been settled about the route to be the New-York Yacht Club fleet after squadron leaves Newport. A good sized representation of the captains favors an Easterly tendency, while nearly as many desire to cruise among the smaller ports on the Sound and the near coast, such as Oyster Bay. The Marbichead regatta plan has met with decided opposition on the part of vessel-owners, who took exceptions to treatment they received last year, and the question competing in the Eastern Yacht Club races is therefore still unsettled. The whole matter will come to a climax to-night, when the captains will meet on board the Electra.

ONLY FOUR IMMIGRANTS.

THE COMMITTEE EXPECTED TO FIND 400. A TRIP DOWN THE BAY TO MEET THE INDIA-

FURTHER TESTIMONY.

The Committee on Immigration began the investiga on yesterday with Mr. Colclazer on the stand, whose testimony had not all been taken when the meeting adjourned the day before. The examination had hardly begun, however, when Chairman Ford announced that the meeting would stand adjourned while the committee and the reporters went down the bay to board an immigrant steamship. The committee visited a newly arrived steamer, the Alexandria, on Sunday, July 20. shortly after her arrival, but found only one steerage passenger aboard. This time they determined to steal a march on the steamship company and go out to meet the India, which was thought to have some 400 steerage passengers on board. When the United States renue cutter Washington made fast to the side of the India, the officers and crew of the vessel looked coolly over the ship's side and waited for developments. It was found that the India carried only four steerage passengers, and these were Austrians. The committee returned at once to the Westminster Hotel, where the investigation was continued.

The first witness called was a broken-down Irishman, sixty-two years old, who gave his name as William Penny. He testified that he came to this country three years ago. The money for his passage had been sent to him by a son and a daughter who lived hero. They met him at Castle Garden, but had never supported him or given him any assistance. He did not know where either of them now lived. He had not done any work since his arrival, and for the last three months he had been in the workhouse on the Island. The case of James Lees & Son was next taken up. The hearing had been set for to-day, but by some mis ommittee consented to hear the testimony of Albert take one of the witnesses appeared on Monday. Redford then, and to continue the examination yester-Bedford stated when examined that he had been employed as a "hone-drawer" in a worsted factory at Kidderminster, England. He earned four shillings a week, and when a Mr. Greatwich, a friend of his, told him that he knew of an opening in America where he could earn four pounds a week, he decided to come to this country. He did not come by steerage and paid his own passage. When he landed he was taken to the Custom House and answered all the questions that were asked him. This done he went at once to Bridgeport to begin work with his new employers, James Lees

John Webb, a worsted-worker, of Bridgeport, testified that the firm of John Lees & Son had been importing skilled labor from England for three years at the least. There were plenty of skilled wool-workers in this country. He believed that Greatwich was their agent, for John Lees himself had told him that Greatwich received a salary from the firm. He had known that Redford had been sent for to take a position in the mills.

Mr. Colclazer stated in his testimony that he had called upon Dr. John Lees last Sunday in reference to the Bedford case. Dr. Lees had said that he intended to get more men from England. He would advertise for them. Stating the conversation, the witness said " Did you make a contract with Bedford?" I asked.

" Have you ever offered men money to come to you?" "I offered a man money once, but that was before the bill in regard to contract labor was passed."

The witness was then examined in regard to the Italian and Hungarian laborers in the coal regions. He described their manner of living, the amount of their described their manner of living, the amount of their wages and their general condition. They were cheated by their bosses and defrauded by the mine operators by sharp practices against which they were helpless. James creedman was questioned about the Italians and other foreign laborers in Pennsylvania. He corroborated the testimony of Mr. Colclaser. He was then asked to describe the tour of inspection taken by the committee, himself and others through Mulberry-st. This part of the examination was confined to a description of the degratation and squalor of those who occupy the worst of the Mulberry-st, tenement-houses. The meeting then adjourned until this morning.

FOG AND HEAT MAKE PEOPLE WEART. The weather in this city yesterday, apparently, refused to be altogether controlled by Lieutenant Pursell, for the day opened comparatively cool and pleasant, with a gentle nertheasterly wind still prevailing. As there was a fog handing over the city early in the day, the sun's rays did not at first strike with full force.

OBITUARY.

WILLIAM PLEATER DAVIDGE. A telegram received at the Madison Square Theatre early yesterday morning announced the sudden death of William Pleater Davidge, the veteran comedian. Mr. Davidge left this city on last Friday night with the Madison Square Theatre Company to play his original parts in the pieces to be presented on the Western tour. At 12:15 last night, when within a short distance this side of Cheynne, W. T., Mr. Davidge was seized with a congestive attack, and passed away painlessly. The body was left in charge of D. C. Rhodes, manager of the Cheyenne Opera House, and will be embalmed and sent to the dead actor's home in Brooklyn. William P. Davidge was born at Ludgate Hill, London, England, on April 17, 1814, and was consequently in his seventy-fifth year. As a youth he evinced a strong taste for amateur theatricals, and when about twenty made his first professional appearance at Drury Lane Theatre in the small part of James in "The Miller's Maid." His first important venture was made at Nottingham in 1836, as Adam Winterton in "The Iron Chest." For the next fourteen years he played in England, principally at Manchester, where he was a great favorite. In 1850 he came to this country, and made his debut at the o'd Broadway Theatre, then under the management of Marshall, as Sir Peter Teazle. During the next five years he was in the support of most of the principal stars, including Forrest, G. V. Brooke, Julia Dean, Charlotte Cushman and Lola Montez. In 1861 Mr. Davidge became a member of Wallack's, and after a season or two there joined Mrs. John Wood's forces at the Olympic, where among other parts he played Powhatan in John Brougham's " Pocahontas."

When Florence brought "Caste" from London, he elected Davidge for Eccles, and many good judges think that his performance was not surpassed even by that of George Honey, the original impersonator, who afterward came here. In 1869 Mr. Davidge went to Daly, at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, and remained there eight years. He appeared in a great many prominent parts, but will perhaps be best remembered during this portion of his career by his Ragmoney Jim, in "Pique." For several years after leaving the Fifth Avenue he travelled with Fanuy Davenport and later with Margaret Mather. During the last three seasons he has been at the Madison Souare Theatre, but the parts for which he was cast were scarcely commensurate with his abilities. Nearly two years ago Mr. Davidge had a successful benefit to ommemorate the completion of his fiftieth year upon the stage. His last great success was as Dick Deadeye in the first production of "Pinafore" in this city. In Shakespearean comedy Mr. Davidge was exremely happy, and his Touchstone was exceptionally clever. He was also particularly proud of his Jem Baggs, in "The Wandering Minstrel," a part which lobson first made famous. Mr. Davidge was a man of considerable culture and wielded at times an able pen. His " Defence of the Stage," written in reply to an atfack made by Dr. Theodore Cuyler, and his Footlight Flashes," are well known. Augustin Daly once announced a comedy by him, and the old actor lived in hopes of inducing A. M. Palmer to bring it For the last thirty years Mr. Davidge lived in Brooklyn, where he was widely known and generally respected. His house at No. 132 Pacific st. was bought respected. His house at No. 152 Farmors, was adopted with the proceeds of a lucky investment in a lottery. Mr. Davidge baves a widow, two sons, one of whom, william, is worthly following in his father's tootsteps, and an unmarried daugnter. It is improbable that the funeral can take place before Monday. He was one of the original members of the American Dramatic Fund, and was always foremost in his desire to advance and defend the interests of

SAMUEL DRAKEL

Samuel Drake, who died in San Francisco on Sunday, was an old New Yorker who went to the Pacific Slope many years ago. He was the descendant of an old New-York family, attended the grammar school at Columbia College and for some years served as a clerk with Devlin & Draper, importers of fruit. the trip to California he had many stirring adventures, being shipwreched and passing through a variety of mishaps. His career in the West was a varied one. He was a store-keeper and trader, a miner, was twice burned out, was robbed and defrauded, and at last settled down in the fruit commission business, in which he was successful. He retired a few years ago. Mr. Drake was a man of exceptionally high character, upright and bonest, and well liked by a host of people with whom he had come in contact.

DAMAGE FROM STORMS IN THE WEST. Springfield, O., Aug. 7 (special),-Lightning struck the Arcade Hotel to-day, doing a large amount of damage. The wind also did great damage.

Small buildings were demolstanding in the items. Small consisting were denotished, and large ones unroofed. The wind was a straight gale, and blew at the rate of about forty miles per hour. REPUBLICAN REVISION OF THE TARIFF.

Washington, Aug 7 (Special).-The Senate Finance Sub-Committee is still at work early and late upon details of the Tariff bill, with the determination, if possible, to make all necessary changes in the original raft before it was reported to the full committee, or the Senate, expecting thereby to bring out a measure which the majority in the Senate can stand by as a whole. It is at the same time giving brief informal hearings to all who come before it. It began this morning the final revision of the measure in detail and hopes to have the work completed this week.

WHY SENATOR PALMER FEELS ANNOYED. Washington, Aug. 7 (Special).—Senator Palmer has been much annoyed at the general circulation of an ession, falsely attributed to him, to the effect that in his opinion half a dozen Senators had procured their seats by the too free use of money, or by the employment of money in excess of legitimate expeases. He says he never made use of any such expenses. He says he hever made use of any such expression, nor of anything in the least kindred to its senator Palmer says, moreover, that he was never even seen by any reporter of the paper which published the alleged interview containing the expression. He was very much surprised to see published what purported to be an interview with him that was obtained without his knowledge.
